Name of institution: Instituto Politecnico de Braganca

Overall conclusion: Successful

1. Strengths of application

- The institution has developed a very attractive and user friendly platform for the course catalogue;
- The course catalogue is accessible through the general webpage of the institution with one click;
- Information developed is carefully selected and clearly presented;
- The methodology of credit allocation is well described and the whole course catalogue demonstrates consistency with the methodology;
- The course catalogue is developed for both home and international students and there are clear references to both target groups;
- In general, course catalogue demonstrates a high degree of transparency of the academic offer of the institution;
- The institution demonstrates good practice in student mobility and study period recognition.

2. Areas for further improvement

- The "graduation requirements" item should be filled in for the programmes;
- Assessment criteria should be developed and described for each course unit;
- Key learning outcomes of the programme for some of them should more clearly relate to the programme and carry some subject specific information.
