Define the search strategy

Define the keywords

To start a search in any source, is important to define the topic and select the subject terms or keywords

Search for synonyms and variant spellings that can be covered with Booleans

Identify broad and specific terms that can broaden or refine the results obtained

Define the keywords

Synonyms and alternative terms

words that have the same or similar meaning to the main keywords elderly OR “old people” adolescents OR “young people”

Analyze the subjects of the articles and the bibliographical references for further research.

Define the search strategy

Phrase search

To make your search more relevant, you should always use quotation marks for compound terms

"smart cities"

"neck pain"
